Name and address of employer

Ferrari Group – SW System S.r.l

Via Andegari, 15 – 20134 Milano

Type of business or sector

Ferrari Group is a market leader in international shipping and integrated logistics for jewelry and luxury goods, with operations in over 50 countries worldwide. Founded in 1959, the group's core business focuses on forwarding goods, providing security services, and supporting corporate logistics planning.

Occupation or position held

Web Developer, Frontend Team Leader e UX Designer

Main activities and responsibilities

Implementation of the first self-service portal for integrated logistics services dedicated to jewelry and luxury goods. I am responsible for functional analysis, supporting the definition of requirements, design, development, testing, and production deployment of the entire front-end of this project. The project is developed as a single-page application based on React and REST API technologies. Wireframe design is primarily done using Balsamiq and Adobe XD, and I use HTML 5, CSS 2 and 3, Javascript, React, and Node.js on a daily basis. Project management activities are handled through Trello and Jira, while software versioning is managed using GIT and Sourcetree.

I interact daily with IT professionals, programmers, and individuals more focused on business and operations. I strive to adopt well-known solutions for Web Application production and guide the team towards concepts of UX and usability, use cases, wireframing, and mockup. With my team, we have chosen to adopt a development environment linked to Node.js and NPM. We use React Semantic UI, Redux, React boilerplate, and I have developed a good familiarity with code versioning.
